

Dr.Malcolm Read

Dr. Read is former Executive Secretary of the Joint Information Systems Committee (JISC) in the UK.

He has an interdisciplinary background in hydrology and meteorology. He worked with the former Overseas Development Administration and led the computing services of two UK research councils. He joined the Joint Information Systems Committee (JISC) in 1993. He has extensive experience with the development of e-Infrastructure within the UK. He has also been involved with National Science Foundation (NSF) Cyber Infrastructure work and the e-Infrastructure reflection group (e-IRG) within Europe. He is a former chair of the European Networking Policy Group (ENPG). He was awarded an OBE in 2009 for his services to further and higher education.