SESSIONS

Know White And Her Seven Learners Plus One

Have you ever wondered how to make content memorable for your learners? Noticed that there are several different ways to reinforce important information for your learners? Let "Know" White introduce you to her learners. This session compares eight cartoon characters to the eight frames of mind according to Dr. David Lazear, et al., the recognized experts in multiple intelligences. Assess your learner's dominant style and plan your teaching method to match it.

Spellbinders: Stories that Create Magic, Inspire, Teach, and Motivate

Stories have been used for thousands of years as a teaching tool. In this session, discover ways to improve your own story telling skills, so that when teaching, your stories can provide a meaningful learning point. This session focuses on increasing the impact of your message by sharing some story telling success secrets that you can apply immediately. Discuss the three voices in which stories can be told and which is most powerful when making a point. Assess your stories and select the most appropriate voice to tell it in: first person, second person, or third person.

Outcomes:

- Analyze story secrets that allow you to get people's attention and keep it throughout the learning experience.
- Assess your stories and select the most appropriate voice to tell it in: first person, second person, or third person.
