

Preliminary list of presentations for XVIth IAIP conference: New developments in Investigative Psychology.

Keynote speakers.

David P. Farrington, Emeritus Professor of Psychological Criminology, Cambridge University. Statistical Approaches to Offender Profiling.

Professor Stuart Kirby, UCLan. Is it possible to profile the Organised Crime offender?

Gavin Oxburgh, awaiting abstract.

Donna Youngs, Narrative Investigative Psychology: The potential of an emerging paradigm.

Presentations.

Rachel Wilcock, Laura Crane, Gilly Nash, Lucy Henry. The University of Winchester Evaluating the Use of Registered Intermediaries for Child Witnesses.

Professor Adeniyi Olatunbosun. University of Ibadan, Nigeria. De- Radicalisation of Terrorists through judicial and non-judicial schemes in Nigeria.

Nelli Aihio, London South Bank University. Victims' self-reported vulnerability.

Kathryn Hughes, University of Huddersfield. Comparing the structure of reported offences by incarcerated and non-incarcerated participants.

Dr Jeanette Garwood, Leeds Beckett University. Teaching IP Via Remote Profiling.

Gali Perry, The Hebrew University, Jerusalem. Paramilitary Policing of Social Protest: Implications for Police Legitimacy.

Dr Michael R Davis, Monash University, Australia. Crime Scene Analysis and Sex Offender Risk Assessment.

Craig JR Collie, University of Portsmouth. Interaction in Stranger Abduction.

Devvarta Kumar, Ph.D. National Institute of Mental Health and Neurosciences, Bangalore, India. Status of Forensic Psychology in India.

Giang Ly Isenring, University of St-Gallen/School of Law. Assessing the areas of vulnerability for corruption for Swiss firms in international business activities: the Swiss International Corruption Survey.

Mark R. Keibell & Nicole Trewick, Griffith University, Australia. Preventing rape: Using an intelligence-led approach to identifying those who are likely to rape in the future.

Cristina Soeiro & Raquel Guerra, Judiciary Police Academy, Portugal. Child and adolescent internet sexual offending, use of pornography and offenders typologies.

Samantha Lundrigan, Mandeep Dhami & Kelly Agudelo, Anglia Ruskin University, Cambridge, UK. The Role of Stereotypes in Convictions for Stranger Rape.

David Keatley, V. Allom & B. Mullan, University of Lincoln. Implicit self-control and aggression.

Trond Myklebust, Norwegian Police University College. A Qualitative Study of the Organisational Climate and Investigation Performance in the Norwegian Police.

Przemysław Piotrowski & Stefan Florek, Jagiellonian University. First-time convicts narratives revealed by LAAF: preliminary results.

Talking poster presentations.

Anneka Fatania, Maria Ioannou, Laura Hammond, University of Huddersfield. Differentiating Sexual Murders of Adult and Child Victims.

Nazanin Shiraj, Maria Ioannou, Laura Hammond, University of Huddersfield. Differentiating Honour Crimes: An Empirical Framework.

Kathryn Hughes, University of Huddersfield. Examining the structure of attitude towards offending.

Marta Maria , University of Murcia. Developing criminal careers: are criminal careers in ADHD subjects influenced by conduct and oppositional-defiant disorders?

Marta Maria , University of Murcia. Dealing with mentally disordered offenders and psychopathy in the Spanish criminal courts

Gali Perry, The Institute of Criminology, Faculty of law, The Hebrew University. Situational Crime Prevention, the Four Pillars of Opportunity and Lone-Wolf Terrorist Events: The Case of Run-Over Attacks.