

David Brennan, CFO, ecobee

David is the CFO of ecobee, a Toronto based that is focused on creating smarter wi-fi thermostats that are beautifully designed, easy to use, provide comfort and savings for families and are good for our planet. Over his 30 years of experience in accounting, finance, and investor relations, there are few industries he hasn't touched: SaaS with Achievers and LiveHive Systems, hardware and software with PixStream and Intercon Security), banking with BMO and AT&T Capital, and public accounting with Coopers & Lybrand. Beyond numbers, David is also passionate about the people behind the work: thinking up the best ways to recruit, engage, and retain top talent.
