

Nicolas Morgan is the co-Founder of Morgan Solar, sits on the board of directors, and leads Sales, Business Development and Marketing efforts at Morgan Solar. Morgan Solar was founded with the mission to make solar power more affordable, and to that end, Morgan Solar is working to commercialize next generation building integrated solar technologies, as well as technologies that reduce the cost of solar panels, and increase the power output of solar power installations. Prior to Morgan Solar, Nicolas was a senior manager for FON Technologies, a Web 2.0 start-up and worked at Ernst & Young as a risk management and business process advisor.

Nicolas holds a Bachelor of Social Science in Anthropology, a degree in Applied Information Technology and an MBA from the Rotman School of Management.
