Secondary Number Talks Middle & High School

“Something wonderful happens when students can learn they can make sense of mathematics in their own ways, make mathematically convincing arguments, and critique and build on the ideas of their peers.”

Number Talks support implementation of the California Standards. Participants engage in discourse, conversations, and alternative thinking in mathematics.

This workshop is framed around the Making Number Talks Matter book, written by Cathy Humphreys & Ruth Parker. This resource is included in the price of the workshop.

Audience: Administrators, Coaches, Teachers, & Paraprofessionals
