

Christina Canters Bio:

Christina Canters is a keynote speaker, communication skills expert and podcast strategist based in Melbourne, Australia. A former Architect, she started her business The C Method to help corporate professionals and business leaders dramatically increase their influence, confidence and impact at work, through learning powerful communication techniques.

An engaging and high-energy speaker, Christina inspires and educates audiences around the world with her compelling storytelling, passion and humour. She has worked with organisations including: SEEK, HTC, Vision Australia, Stockdale & Leggo, The University of Melbourne, RMIT Activator and Sugar Australia.

Christina has been podcasting since 2013. Her current show, Stand Out Get Noticed, is one of the top-ranked public speaking and business communication podcasts in iTunes, with over 1.2 million downloads.

She is also the CEO of Podcast Services Australia (PSA), which she co-founded with her husband Aaron Heath. PSA is an innovative podcast development and training company that helps individuals and organisations maximise their impact through the podcast medium.