2018 Arizona Justice Project: One Injustice is One too Many Dinner

Recognizing those dedicated to exonerating the innocent, correcting the cases of manifest injustice and supporting those whose lives are forever changed by injustice.

The Arizona Justice Project was established in 1998 and became the fifth innocence organization in the United States created to help inmates overturn wrongful convictions. Today, there are more than 60 similar organizations worldwide. Larry Hammond and members from the Arizona Attorneys for Criminal Justice founded the Arizona Justice Project with a mission to represent indigent Arizona inmates whose claims of innocence or manifest injustice have gone unheeded.
