

ICPA

19th International Conference
on Postal Automation 2018

There's never been a more exciting time for leaders in postal automation. It's also an important time for our industry to gather and discuss advances and solutions. The continued progression and evolution of e-commerce domestically and internationally require change in every aspect of our operations as we shift to a parcel-centred business. These challenges demand innovative and continuous improvement.

Take a guided tour of the largest parcel centre in Germany

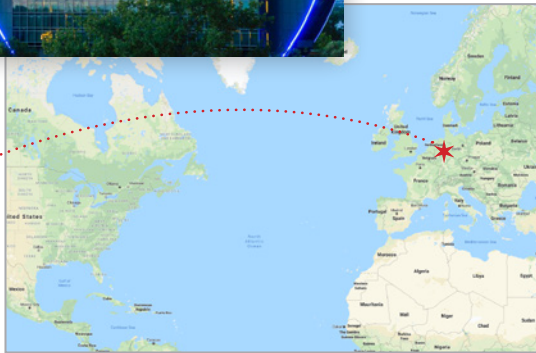

With a sorting capacity of 50,000 parcels per hour, Deutsche Post DHL Group's most modern and efficient parcel centre came online in the south Hessian town of Obertshausen in June 2016. On about 37,000 square meters of indoor floor space, more than 6 kilometers of sorting and conveyor lines were assembled with over 400 sorting terminal points, at which employees load the packages for further shipping.

Apart from the capacity increase, the focus is also on faster transit times and greater flexibility to fulfill the constantly growing expectations of customers in a still booming parcel market. In the new parcel mega-centre in Obertshausen, Deutsche Post DHL Group is therefore relying on the latest technology, which accelerates the procedures, while making them much easier for employees.
