Systems Engineering Professional (SEP) Certification Exam

Exam Time: 9 a.m. – noon on Fri., Oct. 10th

Systems Engineering Across the Lifecycle

@ 8th Annual INCOSE Great Lakes Regional Conference

FREE to take the exam[1]	SEP application NOT required[2]
Conference attendees ONLY[3]	INCOSE membership NOT required[4]

Further Details

1. SEP examination typically requires paying an ~$80 testing fee to a 3rd party testing center.
2. An examinee is not required to apply for SEP certification prior to taking the exam. Examinee has option to apply for certification after taking the exam and receiving the results. Standard application fees (CSEP: $300-member / $400-nonmember; ASEP: $150-member /-nonmember) would apply.
3. Examinees must register for the conference to be eligible to sit for the exam. https://2014incoseregional.eventbrite.com. Register by Mon, 9/1, (conference early-bird deadline) to receive a hard copy of INCOSE Systems Engineering Handbook (version 4) to use as a reference for preparing for the exam. Limited number of seats ... Enrollment will continue until filled.
4. As with the conference, an attendee is not required to be an INCOSE member to participate in the exam.

The exam is being offered to beta test questions for the newest version of the INCOSE SE Handbook (Version 4). Your participation will provide valuable feedback to the INCOSE SEP Program, and provide you a cheaper, more efficient means to take the exam.

Contact Stephen Lewis with questions, lewis@ictt.com, or Paul White, 2014 INCOSE GLRC Chair, Paul.White@incose.org