

Marvyn Novick

MEMORIAL LECTURE

Marvyn Novick, a dear colleague and leading contributor to the social policy field in Ontario and Canada, passed away in June 2016. The Social Planning Network of Ontario along with other community partners presents this inaugural social justice lecture in Marvyn's name to honour his legacy as a policy thinker, advocate and teacher.

Basic Income or Decent Work?

Thursday, November 2nd, 2017
6:30 p.m. – Reception; 7:00 p.m. – Program
YWCA Auditorium, 87 Elm Street, Toronto

Andrew Jackson is the Broadbent Institute's Senior Policy Advisor. In September 2012, he retired from a lengthy career as Chief Economist and Director of Social and Economic Policy with the Canadian Labour Congress. Mr. Jackson was the Packer Professor of Social Justice at York University for the academic years 2012-2013 and 2013-2014.

Family of
Marvyn Novick

Please R.S.V.P. online:

mnovickmemoriallecture.eventbrite.ca