

Jessica Stoecklein DeFelice, CPRIA

Director of Private Client Services
Simpson & McCrady LLC

Jessica DeFelice is the Director of Private Client Services at Simpson|McCrady and is responsible for client relations, marketing and sales within the Private Client Services division. Simpson|McCrady is a risk management and insurance advisory firm that specializes in guiding successful individuals through a risk analysis process to create a tailored plan suitable for each individual. The Private Client Services team is led by advisors that are dedicated to understanding and addressing the needs of the clients that they serve.

Prior to joining Simpson|McCrady in 2014, Jessica worked for AIG Private Client Group as an Underwriter for over eight years and specialized in VIP account underwriting. During her time at AIG, she handled various territories throughout the New England and Mid-Atlantic regions.

She attended Villanova University for her undergraduate studies and earned her Bachelor of Arts degree in English and a Business minor. She completed her Chartered Private Risk and Insurance Advisor (CPRIA) certification through St. John's University School of Risk Management and is proud to be a part of the first 149 participant graduating class.

Jessica resides in Aspinwall, PA with her husband, Richard, their one year old son, Tripp, and their English Pointer, Remington. In her free time, she loves taking the opportunity to enjoy the outdoors throughout the year with hiking, camping, fly fishing, mountain biking, and skiing.
