Presentation developed by project team, including Mr Ron Knevel (La Trobe Rural Health School), Dr Tracy Fortune (Allied Health), and Prof Matthew Yau (Tung Wah College, Hong Kong)

By participating in this seminar, we expect you will:

- Develop an understanding of cultural competency, and why this is important for La Trobe University graduates
- Learn about Internationalisation at Home and consider how this approach can be integrated into your subjects/courses
- Learn about a trial project completed with Australian and Hong Kong students, including project outcomes and recommendations
- View virtual applications and platforms that can be used to support students to interact and collaborate online
