

Teaching Historical Thinking: Why Won't You Just Tell Us the Answer?

Wednesday, July 18, 2018 at Maui College (Ka Lama Room 109)

- |                 |  |
|-----------------|--|
| 8:00-8:30 am    | Registration and sign-in   |
| 8:30-8:45 am    | Welcome and Introduction to the workshop themes, issues and topics-- Janyce Omura, teacher, Maui High School-- Mitch Yamasaki, historian, Chaminade University of Honolulu-- Bob Buss, executive director, Hawai'i Council for the Humanities |
| 8:45-10:15 am   | Thinking Historically Can be a Natural Act: Using Theodore Roosevelt and the Panama Canal to Create a Classroom Culture that Fosters Historical Inquiry – With Bruce A. Lesh  |
| 10:15-10:30 am  | Break  |
| 10:30 am – Noon | Developing Effective Questions for Historical Investigations: The Bonus Army – With Bruce A. Lesh   |
| Noon-12:45 pm   | Working Lunch with morning presenters  |
| 12:45-2:00 pm   | I Didn't Anticipate That! -- Common Classroom Pitfalls with Historical Investigations: The Tet Offensive (Vietnam)-- With Bruce A. Lesh   |
| 2:00-2:15 p.m.  | Break  |
| 2:15-3:45 a.m.  | Assessing Historical Thinking: Wounded Knee-- With Bruce A. Lesh  |
| 3:45-4:00       | Closing Remarks  |

For middle and high school teachers, with inter-island travel stipends available. Information/registration: Please contact the HCH offices at 732-5402 ext 2, historyday@hihumanities.org.

Sponsored by Hawai'i Council for the Humanities and Chaminade History Center, with Support from the Stern Foundation, Daniel K. Inouye Institute, and Hawai'i State Legislature Grant-in-Aid