

Postpartum Support International 2012 Meeting Vendor Opportunity

Hello and Greetings from Postpartum Support International (PSI)! We are excited about our upcoming 2012 PSI Meeting on June 27 -30, 2012 at the Orleans Hotel & Arena in Las Vegas Nevada. We have space available for vendor tables or booths and would be pleased to have you join us there. Our trainings at this event provide information and resources to our audience of health care, mental health, public health, and childbirth professionals serving pregnant and postpartum families. The four days of our PSI 2012 Meeting include our PSI Perinatal Mood & Anxiety Disorders Certificate Training, PSI Social Support Skills Training, special workshop on supporting Latina Moms and Families, PSI Volunteers Meeting, the unique day-long Perinatal Psychiatry Seminar, and Friday night reception and dinner. The conference provides Continuing Education credits for doctors, nurses, nurse-midwives, psychologists, licensed counselors, doulas, childbirth professionals, and lactation consultants.

Postpartum Support International, www.postpartum.net, founded in 1987, offers professional education about Perinatal Mood and Anxiety Disorders (mental health disorders during pregnancy and postpartum) and support services for families across the US and in 36 foreign countries. Our evidence-based trainings and annual conferences have grown each year, receiving excellent evaluations and bringing together hundreds of providers, educators, families, and volunteers to learn from experts in the field of perinatal mental health.

PSI core services include a toll-free telephone support line (1-800-944-4PPD) in English and Spanish, free weekly Chat with an Expert for moms, a monthly Chat with an Expert for Dads, monthly chat with The Founder to discuss developing social support networks, an extensive website, social media communication, community referrals providers specializing in PMADs, free support groups, scholarships and small grant funds, in-service trainings and conferences for health care providers. Postpartum Support International has more than 140 volunteers in the United States and 40 in other countries who provide families with dedicated, informed, and compassionate support and specialized resources in their communities.

Becoming a vendor of this PSI event brings you a unique opportunity to highlight your organization to the health care community that serves pregnant and postpartum women, men, and their families.
