

Sexuality and Relationships Education for Students with Special Educational Needs

An important event for anyone who delivers sexuality and relationships education (SRE) to students with disabilities and/or learning difficulties.

Hear from a broad range of engaging speakers and meet a variety of WA agencies who can support you with your delivery of SRE. A variety of practical activities will be showcased throughout the day.

This symposium is suitable for anyone who may deliver SRE in schools. This includes teachers, school health nurses, support staff, administrators and external agencies. Pre-service teachers are also welcome. This symposium is applicable to all year levels (K-12) and all school sectors.
